Biography

John Digweed is a British DJ and record producer. [1] He is also an actor. [2] He is from Hastings, UK, and was born in April 1967. [3] His real name is Thomas John Digweed. [4] His music is tagged as electronic, house, progressive house and techno. [5]

Digweed began DJing in the early 1990s alongside friends such as Fabio and Grooverider. [6] He championed the progressive house sound, most notably through his residency at Renaissance with Sasha. [7] He has collaborated with Sasha as Sasha & John Digweed. [8] In the early 1990s he worked with Nick Muir as Bedrock, which produced the club hits “For What You Dream Of” and “Set In Stone”. [9]

Digweed was voted No. 1 DJ in DJ Mag in 2001. [10] The Bedrock Records label was established with its first release, “Heaven Scent”, in late 1999. [11] Digweed runs the label and hosts a weekly radio show on KISS-100 FM in the UK. [12] His SoundCloud profile describes him as a DJ, producer, label owner and radio broadcaster. [13]

Recent catalogue entries include the albums Structures and Structures: Unmixed from 2010 and Structures Two from 2011, all released on Bedrock Records. [14] His 2010 BBC Radio 1 Essential Mix, broadcast on 29 May 2010, is also listed. [15] In 2012 Bedrock Records released the albums Live in London and Live in Córdoba. [16]
