

Lampé

Genre-fluid German producer and live act blending techno, minimal, and progressive psychedelia with theatrical precision 🎧🎧🎧

Biography

Lampé is the techno alias of Alexander Golz, a Hamburg-born producer, multi-instrumentalist, and live performer also known for his progressive psytrance project Kularis and early work as DJ Mullekular 🎧¹. With a musical journey spanning over two decades, Golz has built a reputation for genre-defying sets and intricate productions that fuse hypnotic minimalism with euphoric energy 🎧¹.

His Lampé moniker emerged in 2017, marking a stylistic shift from progressive psytrance to deep techno and experimental sound design 🎧¹. In 2019, he founded his own label Alula Tunes, which has since become a platform for forward-thinking electronic music 🎧³. A trained lighting designer for theatre and concert productions, Golz brings a unique spatial and visual sensibility to his live performances 🎧³.

Lampé's discography includes releases on Alula Tunes, Form Music, Techgnosis Records, Digital Diamonds, Subios Records, and Music4Aliens, with standout EPs like No Matter (Form Music, 2023), Above & Beyond (Alula, 2023), and Syncteractions (Techgnosis, 2024) 🎧⁵. His tracks often feature complex rhythmic structures, melodic tension, and cinematic transitions.

He has performed at major festivals including Fusion Festival (Turmbühne, 2023), Mystic Creatures, Noisy Festival, and Rebellion der Träumer, as well as club venues like Odonien, Mensch Meier, Waagenbau, and Ritter Butzke 🎧⁷ 🎧⁸.

Lampé continues to evolve his sound while maintaining a strong presence in Europe's underground techno circuit.
