

Petrichor Project

□ Journey-based techno storytelling with cinematic intros and genre-bending grooves □□

Biography

Petrichor Project is the alias of Glenn Anthony, a Melbourne-born electronic artist now based in the Northern Rivers of New South Wales^[1]. With over 40 years of experience in music, Glenn's sonic palette spans techno, drum & bass, ambient, and experimental electronica. His signature style blends long, melodic intros with deep basslines and hypnotic percussion, crafting immersive sets that feel more like cinematic journeys than club routines^{[1][2]}.

Influenced by artists like John Digweed, Sasha, Kruder & Dorfmeister, Thievery Corporation, and Lamb^[1], Petrichor Project's productions often defy genre boundaries. His work has been featured on compilations like Club Cactus Vol.2 and Adventures in Sound Vol.1, showcasing his ability to move between tech house, glitch, and downtempo with ease^[2].

Live, Petrichor Project has played events such as the Club Cactus Vol.2 Album Launch Party, where his set was described as "pure magic" — a blend of funky bass, dark techno, and percussive grooves that left the crowd buzzing^[2]. His approach to DJing is rooted in emotional storytelling, with a focus on flow, tension, and release.

Beyond music, Glenn is known for his collaborative ethos and support of emerging artists, often mentoring producers and contributing to community-driven compilations. His track "Do It Right" was named Track of the Week by Electronic Music Australia in May 2025^[1].
