

Claim Your Artist Page

You can claim your artist page to get a Verified Artist tag next to your name. This helps users know your profile is official. As we add more features, it will also allow us to notify you directly when people suggest changes to your page.

1 Find Your Page ID

First, you need the unique “Page ID” (also called a slug) for your artist profile.

- If your page already exists: Open it in a new browser tab. The Page ID is the part of the URL after `id=`, usually in the format `namespace:your_artist_name`. For example, for Amelie Lens, the ID might be `amelie_lens`.
- If your page does not exist: You must create it first. Make a note of the Page ID you choose.

2 Fill Out the Claim Form

Once you have your Page ID, please go to the ownership request form.

- → Click here to open the Ownership Request Form

Complete the form with the following details:

- ☐ Page ID: Enter the unique Page ID you found in Step 1.

IMPORTANT: Enter the Page ID exactly as it appears in the URL, without the `namespace:` part. For example, if the full ID is `profile:amelie_lens`, you would only enter amelie_lens.

- ☐ Artist Name: Enter your name as you want it displayed to the public, e.g., Amelie Lens.
- ☐ Proof of Identity: Provide a link to an official social media profile or website. The moderators will look for a public email address on that site that matches the one you provide below.
- ☐ Official Email Address: Enter your official contact email. This must match the email publicly listed on your proof of identity link. This email will be kept private.
- ☐ Date: Ensure today's date is selected in the date field.
- ☐ Submit: Press the “Submit” button to send your request.

3 Moderator Review

☐ Our moderation team will review your submission. They will verify the details and apply the Verified Artist tag to your page. If more information is needed, they will contact you via the email you provided.
